Here's how a tighter money policy could impact your stock's valuation

Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) have turned relentless sellers of Indian equities on emerging global risks. The group has offloaded over $5 billion just in the month of January. To step back, Indian equity markets have seen a linear rise since the bottom touched in March 2020. The key reason behind this fast-paced recovery was the 'extraordinary' fiscal expansion and monetary stimulus that developed countries provided as a counter-cyclical strategy in response to the pandemic ind ..

Interview | Bank of America's Amish Shah on why India's valuation premium appears justified

Union Budget 2022-23 fired up equity markets with its growth-oriented capital expenditure (capex) to power economic growth. But as market analysts pored over details, there have been concerns that the capex outlay for FY2023 in many key areas is flat when compared to the year before. However, Amish Shah, Managing Director and Head - India Research, Bank of America (BoFA) Securities clarifies that capex growth is pegged at a healthy 13 per cent over last year. This, if translated into on-the-ground execution,

What is behind Swiggy's $10.7 billion valuation?

Bengaluru-based food-tech platform Swiggy announced on Monday a $700 million investment from marquee investors, almost doubling its valuation to $10.7 billion. On the other hand, the market capitalisation of Swiggy's rival Zomato has plummeted in the last few trading sessions to close at $9.6 billion on Monday. So clearly, Swiggy's valuation has surpassed that of its main rival Zomato which went public last July. With this, Swiggy has turned a decacorn, a term that refers to startups valued at more than $10 billion.

Amazon surges with record $190 billion gain in value

A day after Facebook owner Meta Platforms suffered the deepest loss of stock market value in history for a U.S. company, Amazon logged the greatest ever one-day increase in value. Shares of the online retail and cloud computing giant surged 13.5% on Friday following its blowout quarterly report, expanding its market capitalization by around $190 billion by the end of trading. That beat Apple Inc's record $181 billion one-day gain in stock market value on Jan. 28 following the ..
